Prof. Marco Ferreira (Phd in Educational Psychology) will present several studies carried out with a qualitative research methodology in the Portuguese schools. For each study the theoretical framework, the methodology, and the main findings will be discussed. It will also be argued the relevance of using thematic analysis as an accessible and theoretically-flexible approach to analyze qualitative data. Qualitative research is becoming increasingly recognized and valued. Thus, it is imperative that it is conducted in a rigorous and methodical manner to yield meaningful results.
